

Statement of HealthTrust Europe's commitment to anti-corruption

HCA is fully committed to dealing with its colleagues, business partners and suppliers in a way that demonstrates its commitment to anti-corruption.

All HCA staff, members, consultants and business partners are required to comply with all anti-corruption laws that apply to HCA's operations, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, the U.K. Bribery Act 2010, and applicable anti-corruption laws of nations in which HealthTrust Europe conducts business. HCA's Bribery Act Policy strictly prohibits bribes, kickbacks or other corrupt payments in connection to its business.

All HCA staff, consultants and third parties acting for the benefit of HCA must never offer, provide or authorise the provision of a financial or other advantage to, or for the benefit of, any person or entity to corruptly or unlawfully influence the recipient in any way related to HCA's business.

Conversely, all HCA staff, consultants and third parties acting for the benefit of HCA must never request, agree to receive or accept a financial or other advantage from any person or entity:

- intending that, in consequence, a business function will be performed improperly; or
- as a reward for the improper performance of a business function.

As part of HCA's commitment to anti-corruption practices, it requires suppliers to agree to be bound by the HCA Code of Conduct and its Bribery Act Policy and encourage them to adopt their own set of comparable ethical principles. You may access a copy of the HCA Code of Conduct from the following website:

By placing my signature below, I agree to comply with HCA's Code of Conduct as HCA may from time to time prescribe and undertake not to request, agree to receive or accept a financial or other advantage from HCA or any person or entity in respect of my business dealings with HCA, intending that, in consequence, a business function will be performed improperly or as a reward for the improper performance of a business function.
